Knee-Caps Still Peeking Out from Beneath Skirts, Easter Styles Disclose

NEW YORK, April 16—Easter styles, as viewed along fashionable Fifth avenue today, disclosed that skirts continue to reveal the knee, that hosiery holds and that reptile shoes and "Black Bottom" stockings are all the rage.

Not in years have the Fifth Avenue shops done such a heavy pre-Easter business. The weather man has more than done his part.

The gowns are colorful but not frilly, snappy yet tasteful—and all of them express the spirit of youth.

Inquiry in the shops revealed that girls are spending less money for their Easter layouts than they used to. They "change" often. Instead of one or two Sunday gowns they now have quite a wardrobe.

MISS GERTRUDE ANDRUS, assistant manager of a Fifth Avenue shop, told International News Service that girls and women are going to wear more but less expensive clothes. She estimated that the average Easter outfit the girls will parade to church in tomorrow will cost between $125 to $200. Taking pencil in hand, she outlined a "typical" outfit, the cost amounting to $190. Here it is:

Shoes $10, stockings $1, dress $25, hat $10, gloves $6, underwear $10, either a fur piece or spring coat $75, necessities $20—total $160.

"I notice the girls are getting away from masculine modes," said Miss Andrus. "They're wearing fluffier things. The skirts are fuller and many of them have pleats. We are getting away somewhat from the severe, straight lines that make for the boyish figure."

"GREENS, violets and beige are the favorite colors for dresses. There is a warm spot for black and whites, too."

"Sneaky" skin accents, garish in design and quite unique, have taken the popular fancy.

"Every other girl you see is wearing the 'Black Bottom' stocking—either light or dark stockings with a silver shoe."

"Furs—silver fur, beige and red fox—are part of every girl's attire."

"I think the straight lines are passé; that skirts will remain fuller with the waist line more ample."

EIGHT KILLED, SCORE HURT IN CHICAGO BLAST

Mysterious Explosion Wrecks Row of Buildings; Victims Caught-Like Rats

RESCUE IMPOSSIBLE

Authorities Are Unable To Determine Source; Gas, Bomb or Still Causes

Chicago, April 16—Eight were killed and scores injured today in a terrific explosion and fire that turned a row of one-story brick stores into a seething furnace. A dynamite bomb, a still, or escaping gas were believed responsible for the tragedy.

The dead were members of two families living in the rear of the stores. Trapped as they slept by tons of flaming timbers and bricks, they perished like rats while hundreds of neighbors, hearing their agonized screams, stood by, powerless to extend aid.

Identification of the victims was almost impossible, so badly charred and mangled were the bodies. From information obtained from neighbors, however, police believed the dead to be:

Sam Levin, 45, tailor; Rose, 45, his wife; Albert, 20, a son; Leo, 15, a son; Harry Sukowski; Sarah, his wife; Sam, 15, a son, and Rose, 16, a daughter.

Cause Not Determined

The injured, whose exact number police have been unable to ascertain, are persons living in the vicinity of the death scene, struck by flying glass and falling timbers.

The condition of the ruins made it all but impossible for authorities to determine what caused the tragedy.

One theory was that escaping gas from the Levin tailor shop slowly filled a room and was suddenly ignited, exploding with tremendous force.

The Levin and Sukowski stores received the full force of the blast. They were completely destroyed, with only a few charred bricks and timbers to show where they stood.

H. S. Venable, who lives across the street, gave authorities a graphic account of the tragedy.

"I was thrown to the floor by the explosion," said Venable. "I rushed to the windows and found them all broken. Across the street flames 70 feet high were shooting toward the sky. Even from the distance I was I could hear screams and moans."

Venable rushed to help the victims but the heat of the conflagration was so intense that he could approach no nearer than 25 feet.

TWO BLACK POWDER BOMBS EXPLODE

Chicago, April 16—Two black powder bombs were exploded against Chicago buildings today, resulting in no injuries and only slight damage.

One bomb was exploded against the Shipley Laboratories and the other against an apartment house.

Owners could give no reason for the blasts.

LEGISLATORS MARK TIME, ARE UNABLE TO AGREE

Members of Joint Conference Committee Recess Until Tuesday Night

Columbus, April 16—Unable as yet to reconcile differences existing between the Ohio Senate and House of Representatives, due to house amendments to the Aigler corporation franchise tax bill, legislative leaders today were marking time.

Seemingly without an agreement in sight, members of the joint conference committee recessed here late Friday night until Tuesday night, when they expect to resume their efforts to reach some agreement relative to the Aigler bill amendments. Committee sessions were held behind closed doors.

The conference are: Senators C. C. Bolton, Cleveland, Republican floor leader; A. G. Aigler, Bellevue, and Paul M. Herbert, Columbus, and Representatives Martin Doid, Toledo, Republican floor leader; C. H. Jones, Jackson, and Grant P. Ward, Columbus.

A DAY THAT BREAKS WITH PLEASURE

MAN SERIOUSLY HURT IN SEWER TRENCH CAVE-IN

Glen Blow, 35, Buried Under Avalanche of Stone, Dirt; Ribs Broken

Glen Blow, 35, employed in the construction of the Brightwood sewer, south of Mt. Vernon, was seriously injured when a cave-in occurred shortly before noon yesterday, partly burying him in an avalanche of dirt and stone which crashed to the bottom of a 10-foot trench.

Blow, who was alone in the trench, was rescued by fellow-workmen and taken in an automobile to his home a short distance west of Mosher where a physician was summoned. His injuries consisted of two broken ribs and a number of cuts and bruises about the head and body. There is no evidence of internal injuries and his complete recovery is expected within a few weeks.

The cave-in is thought to have been caused by dirt and stone at the top of the trench having been loosened by blasting operations.

The sewer is being installed under city supervision by Cusper & Gehrig, local engineering firm, in connection with a complete drainage and sanitary system now in progress of construction in the Brightwood addition.

BLAST WRECKS HOME

Three Cleveland Persons Have Narrow Escape from Death

Cleveland, April 16—Three persons had narrow escapes from death or serious injury here early today when an explosion of mysterious origin, which wrecked the exclusive Edgewater district for blocks, wrecked the mansion owned by James C. Pettie, causing damage estimated between $15,000 and $25,000. Pettie, his wife and a maid were thrown from their beds by the blast.

Police are searching for owners of an automobile which was seen parked near the residence shortly after midnight.

Chances For Easter Parade Here Dimmed Considerably By Weatherman's Forecast

Just When Meek Males Are Ready To Display Garb Rivaling That of Flaunting Females, Blue Skies Become Decidedly Gray

If Easter Sunday is not on display tomorrow it will be because the weatherman ordered showers instead of clear skies.

There has been plenty of business in the clothing line and men and women are all set to step out in the annual showing of their spring "glad rags."

Chances of having an Easter parade are poor, however, if the weather turns out as the weatherman predicted today. There is little to be considered dampness in the atmosphere about the time churchgoers and others make ready to step out in their new outfits.

The prediction for Ohio for tomorrow reads:

"Showers and thunderstorms tonight and possibly Sunday."

Styles Are Gay

If the storms appear to spoil the display of new clothes tomorrow, the owners will have to break out later, for the styles this spring are not such as are easily suppressed, especially in men's clothes.

Fair weather Sunday would mean probably the most brilliant array of promenaders that Marion has ever seen.

CHURCHES PLAN OBSERVANCE OF EASTER SUNDAY

Marion Congregations To Hold Services in Commemoration of Resurrection

In commemoration of Christ's resurrection, many Marion churches will hold special Easter services Sunday. At a number of the churches the pastors, or ministers from out-of-town, will preach sermons on topics relative to the day's observance. Organizations in a number of the churches have planned Easter convalescence or medical programs to be preceded at the evening services. Still other of the churches have chosen this day as a fitting time to administer the rites of baptism and to receive new members into the church.

The Easter festival will be celebrated in Emanuel Lutheran Church with two special services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. At the morning service, Rev. J. W. Schilling, pastor of the church, will preach on the theme, "The Word of God Is Our Salvation," having his address on Psalm 118. The choir will sing several beautiful Easter anthems. Sunday night, Reverend Schilling will preach on the subject, "God, Tell His Disciples and Peter," Holy Communion will be celebrated.

NEW ORLEANS IS THREATENED BY HIGH WATER

Torrential Rainfall Adds to Dangers of Rapidly-Rising Mississippi River

HIGHER THAN 1922

Army Engineers Fear for Scores of Towns Along Course of Waterway

BULLETIN

Memphis, Tenn., April 16—The raging Mississippi River today ripped the main government levee near Hickman, Ky., washed a house away, put several hundred persons in flight and swept across 175,000 acres of the richest farm lands in Missouri. The gap was 500 feet wide with no chance of checking the water flowing through it and rapidly spreading over all the lowlands.

New Orleans, April 16—The lower Mississippi Valley today prepared for the greatest flood in its history. A torrential rainfall during the night added to the dangers of a rapidly-rising Mississippi, and as a result a score of towns in the lower section of the city were flooded. More than five inches of rain fell in New Orleans yesterday.

More levees were expected to give way today owing to the fresh rise in the Mississippi river, although hundreds of men were at work with sandbags along the high water spots at Burnside, College Point, Gorman and other towns in this vicinity.

Army engineers, directing the work of keeping the high waters out of the city proper, were confident that the levee in this section would hold. The city itself is safe, engineers said, as the levees protecting it were only recently enforced.

Higher Than 1922

The weather bureau announced the flood probably would reach a level at least two feet higher than the 1922 flood.

While New Orleans was practically safe, army engineers were seriously concerned about the fate of scores of towns along the course of the Mississippi and its tributaries which would be inundated in event levees protecting them broke under the strain of the high waters.

Three men were drowned in Arkansas as a result of the flood, it became known today, bringing the total loss of life in southern cities to ten.

Highways in Arkansas, western Tennessee, portions of Mississippi, Missouri and Kentucky are under water and impassable. In Memphis, the river reached a stage of 40 feet and warning was issued that it will reach the 40-foot stage of 45 feet.

Little Rock Threatened

The state military department at Little Rock has received calls for more than a thousand army tents for Jack support, where the White River has overflowed its banks. Forest City, Ark., was threatened by a break in the levee, it was reported.

The Arkansas River is expected to reach a stage of 40 feet at Little Rock by Sunday and this will put the water into the business district. It was feared already hundreds have been forced to vacate their homes.

TOWN VIRTUALLY WASHED AWAY

Springfield, Mo., April 16—The town of Versailles below the Lake Umbagog dam on the White River has been virtually washed away by water flowing over the structure, it was reported today.

Warned when water first overflowed the dam, all residents fled to higher ground.

FRENCH AIRMAN PLANS FLIGHT OVER ATLANTIC

Marseille, April 16—Captain J. Mait-Begaud, of the French Navy, hopped off at Brest, 16 miles north-west of Rennes, at 4:30 o'clock today, in a biplane, to attempt a flight across the Atlantic to South America. He plans to make the intercontinental flight in four days.

FOUND GUNNY

Cleveland, April 16—Detective Weaver, 23, Cleveland, here today in the electric chair for the murder of Jasper Russell, alias "Whitey" of the Midland Steel Products Co., who was shot to death during an attempted robbery the night of March 18. A jury of 12 men and two women last Friday found Weaver guilty of murder in the first degree, without recommendation of mercy.

THREE LIVES LOST ON LINES BY EXPLOSIONS

United States and Canadian Railroads Make Unusual
Record in 1926

Railroads of the United States and Canada in 1926 handled more than 100 million freight cars loaded with explosives, acids, inflammable and other dangerous materials, a loss of only three lives, according to a report of the year just closed by the bureau of explosives, American Railway Association.

"I AM ALSO THANKFUL"

Bill Smith, as he reflectively called a small bit of roast suspended on a wooden toothpick, "that darned I must not talk my business up in my financial affairs. There is no surer method of losing a loan than to loan him money, and that is how I lost it."

But about every time you establish a relationship of borrower or borrower, you are sure to find your friendship fare, sooner or later something is due to come up to knock it higher.

Marion Chattel Loan Co., 136 S. Main, is the proper place to have your financial needs satisfied. There is no place I go, and there is the place I go to my friends. A good bit ago I was to be thankful that there was a place for me, and even more thankful that here I could safely guide those who wish to borrow from me, and would still have friends. —Adv.

and posted in local railroad circles. The loss of these three lives was due entirely to gasoline while in transit.

There was not a fatality in 1926 due to the transportation of dynamite and other high explosives or acids which are carried out in large quantities by the railroads.

"The carriers," the report states, "are required to transport many hazardous articles which involve the greatest potential hazard they are called upon to face. Considering only three of the most dangerous articles shipped by rail, the railroads transport each year about five million pounds of dangerous explosives; over five million tons of acids and more than 12 billion gallons of gasoline. This requires more than 25,000 freight trains of 80 cars each with 50,000 pounds of loading in each car."

Traffic Heavier

Passenger traffic over the four railroads operating through Marion was much heavier than usual yesterday and today due to a large amount of Easter travel. A corresponding rush is expected Sunday afternoon and night, as the travelers return.

Schedule Arranged

In order to accommodate employees of the Erie Railroad and Silk Mills, it was announced today that the first city street car each morning, with the exception of Sundays and holidays, will leave the transfer at the courthouse at 5:10, east-bound, instead of 5:20 a. m., as formerly provided by the new schedule put in operation by the C. & M. Electric Co. yesterday morning.

The car will then leave the east end at 5:20 a. m. each morning instead of 5:30 and men employed at the mills and on the railroad will be able to get to work on time. Under the previous schedule, employees could not quite make connections.

The remainder of the new schedule will be the same.

U. S. S. Cincinnati Rains Shells On Chinese Forts at Nanking

NO CASUALTIES ON AMERICAN BOAT, REPORT

Broadside Silences Firing from Land as Ship Proceeds Toward Hankow

Shanghai, April 16—Once again American shells rained on Nanking today. The U. S. S. Cincinnati was fired upon by the Chinese in the vicinity of Nanking at 10:45 o'clock this morning as the vessel proceeded up the Yangtze to Hankow, where a naval concentration has been ordered due to the tense situation which exists.

The Cincinnati returned the fire of the Chinese forts with a broadside and silenced the Chinese guns.

As far as reports indicate there were no casualties on the American boat.

Fear Disorders
The attack today on the Cincinnati, following an attack yesterday which caused the U. S. Destroyer Ford to open fire on Nanking, has led to the opinion here that Nanking may be in a state of disorder.

The attack on the Ford yesterday was attributed to Northern troops, but the attack on the Cincinnati is believed to be the work of Nationalist forces.

Chiang Kai Shek is in command at Nanking and it is not believed that he would countenance order for firing on foreign vessels, and this leads to the belief that the troops may be out of control.

Reports from Tungchi state that a Northern cruiser has engaged Southern troops at Chinkiang, but was forced with withdrawal after the arrival of the Nationalist cruiser Huiyang.

100 KILLED IN OPEN WARFARE

Shanghai, April 16—Open warfare between the factions of the Chinese Nationalists continued today, with clashes of a serious nature reported from Canton, where approximately 100 Chinese are reported as killed and wounded, while efforts of the Centrals and Extremists to enter into parleys were delayed.

The exact status of the relations between Chiang Kai Shek, leader of the Nationalist Centrals, and the Hankow Communists remains more or less obscure today.

Denial was made today of reports widely-circulated in the United States yesterday to the effect that Chiang Kai Shek and his Centrals had met in Nanking and passed a resolution impeaching the Hankow government and ordering the arrest of Michael Borodin and other avowed communists in Hankow.

The Nationalist newspapers here today announced that no conference was held in Nanking yesterday. These newspapers state that the conference was postponed from yesterday until Monday on account of the non-arrival of many of the conferees from Hankow.

Reports stated that many communists are refusing to go to Nanking for the conference with the Centrals, fearing personal danger. It is reported that the communists are arranging a conference to be held at Hankow to discuss the future of the Nationalist party and to attempt an agreement with the Centrals.

Unconfirmed reports have been received here that Hankow has ordered the dismissal of Chiang Kai Shek as military leader, but these reports have not been borne out as yet.

FOREIGN CONCESSION IN CANTON PROTECTED

Hong Kong, China, April 16—Graphic details of the successful anti-communist coup at Canton were received here today. Before launching a series of raids upon communist headquarters, it was learned, authorities made elaborate preparations to insure the safety of Shamen, the foreign concession of Canton.

Although it was reported that a number of red Russians were threatened and pursued, a cordon of picked gendarmes, supported by machine guns, was thrown around Sunfuk, facing Shamen, thereby protecting the foreign settlement.

Practically the whole garrison of Canton was mobilized into detachments which moved out into the darkness, each trooper wearing a white helmet.

Firing started in the suburb of Wongshe. The railwaymen's union headquarters, with snipers blazing away at advancing troops, held out for an hour, but eventually was forced to capitulate. Many casualties were reported, besides a hundred unionists captured and disarmed. The moderate forces were said to have been successful in every quarter of the city, an showed themselves adept at street fighting. Their solicitude for non-combatants, however, hampered their operations.

Bodies of four leaders of the seamen's union were being taken to the Taipings near Westbund. Large new buildings, which have been the strongholds of the union strikers, were raided. The moderate forces seized and carried off in triumph weapons, ammunition and quantities of seditious literature.

A party of Russians are reported to have appealed to the German consul, living in Tungshu, but afterward they were seen going elsewhere.

Besides the raids on the seamen's union, other forays were made by the moderates upon the Canton-Kowloon railway union; the Canton-Mangui railway union; and the all-China general labor union.

LOCAL MAN FOUND NOT GUILTY BY JUDGE CARTER

Frank C. Hall Released from Liquor Charge at Upper Sandusky

Upper Sandusky, April 16—Declaring evidence in the case to be only circumstantial, Common Pleas Judge Earl B. Carter declared Frank C. Hall, 509 W. Columbus, Marion, to be not guilty of selling and abetting the possession and transportation of intoxicating liquor.

Hall's trial on the charge followed the arrest of himself and a younger brother, Harold, last Sunday morning by Sheriff H. B. Stansbury of Wandalet County, after the sheriff with a deputy had lain in wait for several hours at a car carrying 60 gallons of alleged liquor.

Attorney Fred W. Warner, Marion, represented Hall in the trial this morning.

BELIEVE MAN HELD HERE TO BE ESCAPED CONVICT

Police Investigating Case of Tony Kautz, Claiming Residence in Pittsburgh

A man who says that his name is Tony Kautz and his place of residence Pittsburgh is held at the city prison while local police are investigating the possibility of his being an escaped convict from the Ohio penitentiary.

Kautz closely resembles one of the prisoners who made their getaway at the state prison last week, according to descriptions of the fugitives on file here, chief of Police Thompson says. Kautz has only one eye and this mark of identification was largely responsible for his arrest here, the escaped convict also being shy an optic.

Kautz, who was taken into custody shortly after 10 o'clock last night at Center and Main-sts, vigorously denies that he is one of the penitentiary fugitives. He will be held here, however, until his identity is definitely established through communication with penitentiary officials.

PARENTS SLAIN AS BABE SLEEPS BETWEEN THEM

Double Murder and Murder-Suicide Theories Advanced by Police

Detroit, April 16—While a three-month-old baby slept between its parents in bed today Mrs. Ida Frosch, 30, the mother, was shot and killed and Lazzi Frosch, 35, the father, suffered a mysterious wound on the head which caused his death two hours later.

The double tragedy is veiled in mystery. Police thus far have been unable to decide whether it was a case of double murder or a murder and suicide.

The shooting occurred in the home of Peter Binchi, a friend of the Froschs. Binchi told police he heard two shots. He rushed downstairs and found Frosch and his child and wife lying in bed.

When officers arrived they found a .45-caliber revolver with one empty shell lying on the floor on Frosch's side of the bed.

Police advanced the theory that Frosch may have shot his wife, but they can not account for the manner in which he received his wound. No instrument was found. Whether he tried in a mysterious way to kill himself, or his wife struck him or a third person delivered the fatal blows, remains a mystery to officers.

The Froschs were in the Binchi home because Mrs. Hannah Binchi, Peter's wife, was ill and Mrs. Frosch was attending her. They had lived in the Binchi home for two weeks.

CARROLL ON ROAD TO RECOVERY, DOCTORS SAY

"Psychic Coma" Has Enveloped Theatrical Producer for 73 Hours

Greenville, S. C., April 16—Emerging periodically from the haze of "psychic coma" which has enveloped him for 73 hours, Earl Carroll was on the road to recovery today, his physicians said.

The New York theatrical producer who collapsed here enroute to the federal prison in Atlanta to serve a year and a day for perjury growing out of his "famous bath party," thinks he is in the Atlanta prison.

This was revealed by Carroll's unblinking while he was in a semi-conscious state, according to his relatives at his bedside in the city hospital here.

Carroll is being held as a federal prisoner in the hospital until his physical condition permits his removal to the Atlanta prison, according to Deputy Marshal John Pinkley, who is remaining near the patient.

Mrs. Marcelle Carroll, the producer's wife who came to his bedside from New York when she learned of his collapse, today was almost recovered from the severe cold which forced her to bed upon her arrival here. She is up and about this morning and went to her husband's bedside.

The members of the Wisconsin legislature hold that they have been outrageously insulted by Governor Zimmerman, who in a special message told them to do their work and go home. It has not yet developed whether offense was taken over the governor's recommendation that they go to work or his suggestion that they go home, but it's easy to see how legislators might construe either as an outrage.

Great Britain is in the midst of a hot discussion regarding whether wisdom teeth should be extracted, as the insurance people hold, or be permitted to remain unimpacted, as the dentists claim is the proper course. When discussion grows heated over a matter like that, it goes to show that something should be done to engender wisdom.

We hope the two young men who have set up the aviation endurance record of fifty-one hours, eleven minutes and twenty seconds will restrain themselves a bit. It would be mighty embarrassing to the army and navy fliers of our own country, Great Britain, France, Italy, Spain and Portugal should two civilians make the New York-Paris direct flight while they were planning how to make it.

Looking to Arbor Day.

By the terms of the proclamation of Governor Donahay, Friday, April 29, has been set apart for observance within the boundaries of the state as Arbor Day. As is customary, the people of the commonwealth are invited and urged to observe the day with such ceremonies as they may deem proper, special emphasis being given the plea that a tree be planted upon each and every lot or other measure of ground surrounding a home.

We have often thought that these Arbor day suggestions which we get from year to year could be far more happily worded. It would be nonsensical to plant a tree upon home grounds already too densely shaded. It would show wisdom to celebrate Arbor day by cutting away a tree or two and giving the remaining trees on such properties a chance to grow into the things of beauty trees unrestricted in their surroundings become.

And why confine the planting of trees to occupied tracts of grounds? Why not plant trees upon vacant lots? Why not have lots adequately shaded and ready for pleasurable occupancy as soon as homes are built thereon? It takes years to grow a tree. Why wait to plant it till desire for it arrives?

And, when considering the planting of a tree, why not give consideration to the kind of tree to plant? Hereabout we are prone to plant maples for shade trees. Possibly we are moved to the selection of the maple by the fact that most varieties of it are beautiful and grow rapidly. But that which comes easily, usually goes easily. Following any windstorm such as we ordinarily have in this vicinity, the maples will be found to have been the chief sufferers. Their limbs are brittle and they are not so well adapted to last in our climate as some other trees. Why not try some slower grower, particularly when those planting are comparatively young with a long life expectancy before them in which to enjoy their properties, some sturdier tree. Why not, let us say by way of illustration, an elm?

But no matter what the variety, let us beautify and make our home properties the more enjoyable with trees. We can not imagine anything less homelike than a residential property devoid of the beauty and the shade which a tree affords.

Others Progress; We Stand Still.

There can no longer be question of the preeminence of the Italian shipping industry predicted by Premier Mussolini a couple of years ago. Within a year, Italy has added the line 33,000-ton Roma to her passenger service; within a very short time the 32,000-ton Augusta, the largest motor ship afloat, will make her trial trip, and in addition to these she has built or is building twelve other major ships, some of which are rated among the finest on the Atlantic, thus becoming in terms of tonnage construction the second ship-building nation of the world.

Not content to stop with this, Italy is soon to begin the construction of two great liners which will closely approach the size of the largest vessels afloat and excel any passenger vessel in speed.

Captain Angelo Ruspini, president of the Italia-America Shipping corporation, the American representative of the Navigazione Generale Italiana, announces that the latter organization will at once begin the construction of two 45,000-ton liners, practically equal in size to the Olympic or Aquitania, which in many respects will surpass anything afloat. These sister ships, which are to be placed in the New York-Naples Genoa service, will cost over $12,000,000 each, will exceed 800 feet in length and will be designed to have a speed of twenty-eight knots. If this speed is realized, they will be a knot faster than the 30,000-ton Cunarder, Mauritania, the fastest passenger liner extant; which holds the Atlantic crossing record both ways. It is not yet definitely determined whether they will be propelled by motor engines or a new type of turbine which has been installed in the Ansonia and is soon to be given a service try-out.

And while Italy has been building up her passenger-carrying service, other nations of Europe have been far from idle. Great Britain is constructing a number of big and fast vessels, one of which will exceed in size both the Leviathan and the Majestic; France has added to her chief line the magnificent 14,000-ton Ile de France, and Germany, as represented by the North German Lloyd, will soon have afloat two new ships of about 45,000 tons, which are designed to have a speed of 27½ knots.

While all this activity in ship-building is being manifested abroad, the United States appears to be content to give her passenger ships an annual overhauling, and let it go at that. The United States Lines is operating the Leviathan, the George Washington, the Harding, the Roosevelt and the Republic as passenger liners in the Atlantic service. Bids for the reconstruction of the America have been asked and there is some talk of reconditioning the Argonne and the Vernon and adding them to this service. The most of these are former German vessels and becoming aged.

The plan to construct two 35,000-ton vessels to sail in connection with the Leviathan and give a first-class weekly service has met with opposition and is practically at a standstill. This while other nations are moving forward and making progress, the United States is at a standstill.

Measured by the number of ocean travelers, measured by our importance as a nation, measured by our wealth, measured by any standard which may be suggested, the United States should have a merchant marine second to none. If our laws are unfriendly to the maintenance of such a merchant marine, they should be changed to place the operation of a United States merchant marine on an equality in the matter of operation with that of any merchant marine afloat. We can not remain inactive in this matter much longer. Further delay will serve but to make harder the development of the merchant marine we have. Continued delay may, and probably will, lose us even the merchant marine we possess.

Within twenty hours after a young woman and her three male companions held up a Chicago jewelry store they were behind the bars and the $7200 worth of loot taken by them recovered. This is offered just to show that crime doesn't pay, even in Chicago.

The Philadelphia Record is of the opinion that "it would be better to turn China over to the Japanese" for the reason that "they are close by and they understand Orientals." The trouble about this plan is that, just at present, the bulk of the turning over is being done by the Chinese.

Knocked down and being trampled by an enraged bull, a farmer up near Bluffton was saved by his dog, which answered his master's cries, leaped the barnyard fence and, fastening his teeth into one of the bull's hind legs, hung on to such good advantage as to divert the attack of the bull and permit of the escape of the farmer. Little wonder that all mankind likes dogs.

Prison Whipping Posts.

If two bills passed by the lower house of the Michigan general assembly meet the favor of the upper house of that state, the whipping post will be installed in Michigan prisons and lashings will be a part of the sentences pronounced upon certain law-breakers.

The bills provide that bank robbers and persons convicted of house-breaking when armed may be given from ten to twenty lashes "on the bare back well laid on" every six months of their imprisonment, up to a total of 300 lashes.

The bills may not pass the senate, but the fact that they have passed the lower house of the state goes to show to what extent the people of Michigan are moved by the flood of crime which is sweeping the country. Nor is this feeling confined to Michigan alone. Far from it. We see it reflected in the Baumes case in New York state, under which a fourth conviction of crime means a life sentence—a life sentence which can not be nullified by any pardon board. Half a dozen other states are acting to check the activities of the criminal world, but possibly the proposed Michigan laws would prove more efficacious than any others. Experts hold that of all forms of punishment, save execution in one form or another, criminals fear the whipping post. This may be the explanation of the favor the two bills mentioned met with in the Michigan house.

KIPLING UP TO DATE.

Weaning in the Hot Season.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Recently I read of a woman who is the mother of twenty-nine children. She is only forty-six years of age, but since the first year of her marriage at fifteen there has always been at least one baby in her home who hadn't learned to walk.

This is a remarkable record. There are few instances of a larger family.

The question of giving nourishment to such an army of youngsters is the first consideration. Indeed, it is the first consideration, whether the family consists of twenty-nine babies or of one baby.

We were talking of this champion family when a dear lady present said she was about to superintend the weaning of her grandchild, aged three months. Naturally, I inquired if there were particular reasons why the weaning would begin at so young an age. "So as to get it over before the weather is too hot," was the reply.

That is a good reason, in general, of course, but not for a three-months old baby at the beginning of the spring or summer. If the mother can possibly continue the breast feeding through the hot months, it is far safer to begin the weaning in October than in April or May.

If the mother can supply the nourishment it is better to keep on with the breast feeding until the baby is nine or ten months old. Of course, illness of the mother or lack of supply of milk will justify weaning at any age of the infant, but otherwise it is far better for the baby if the process can be postponed.

It requires the most exacting care in the preparation of the feedings, no matter what time of year the baby is weaned. But there must be extraordinary care in hot weather when milk is easily tainted and germs grow rapidly.

Little babies suffer from the heat, just as grown-up people. Vitality is lower under conditions of extreme summer weather. Mother's milk is so much better adapted for the infant's needs that the strength and vigor of the child is greater under natural feeding.

For these reasons it is wise to delay weaning. If the mother is in good health and her milk is of good quality and in sufficient quantity, I strongly advise against weaning until fall.

Your doctor is your best friend just now. Talk the matter over with him and follow his advice.

Vagrant Verse.

THE FORGE.

Each night I watched when pinnacles were tipped

With silver flame, and saw the hillside wrought

In stillness, patterned like a wing that dipped

In mountain lakes, and many times I caught

A glimpse through reds, of a canyon gnawed

Through jagged depths down which the silver sped

As if the moon drifts chaos piled, now thawed

And fashioned at some vast forge far afield.

O I have thought I heard it—but to see

The rising moon climb some blue mountain wall

And I have heard sounds that seemed leading me

To hear its stony thunder—then the fall

Of mountain waters! But so near the skies

Winds seem its breath, the stars its sparks that rise!

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q. What is the smallest type of railway car?

A. B.

Q. Probably the push car. It is made with two pairs of wheels and a slight deck, and is used by track workers. Next comes the hand car. It is worked with a hand lever and can be operated at almost train speed by a few men. An inspection car having a gasoline engine for working the lever is a new form of hand car.

A. The term was applied by Italian artists to the Blessed Virgin, the Christ Child, and Saint Joseph.

Q. How long do cats and chickens live? H. G.

A. Cats if well cared for may live to be ten or eleven years old. Chickens may live to be six or seven years old.

Q. How tall is "Freedom" by Crawford? A. K.

A. The figure on the capitol dome is 19½ feet high.

Q. Why are the horse latitudes so called? L. O.

A. Authorities differ in regard to the origin of the name, horse latitudes, some claiming that it was derived from the fact that vessels with cargoes of horses were often so delayed on account of the calms that the animals perished from lack of water.

Q. Are there countries where bananas are a staple food? C. S.

A. The pulp of the banana is nutritious and constitutes an important food. In some of the Pacific islands, it forms almost the staple diet of the natives.

Q. What kind of dogs are prairie dogs? D. V.

A. They are not really dogs, but a kind of squirrel called a marmot.

Q. Will pigs overeat if they are permitted access to food at all times? W. E.

A. It has been demonstrated that there is no danger of overeating when self-feeders are used. It also prevents the overcropping of the hoes which often occurs when they are hand fed.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

The "Nationalist movement" in China is right. Don't make any mistake about that. The Chinese are in favor of a republic and a centralized government. If the military leaders, who have betrayed the people, would stop hiring soldiers to fight each other and if the Kuan-tsun trouble-makers would go home, China would have a centralized government in a short time. It would be a stable government, too, for the Chinese, if undisturbed by foreign propagandists, are a stable people.

The Russians are especially engaged in instilling hatred of the United States and hatred of religion into Chinese minds. China needs the friendship of the United States, which she has always had, and she needs religion.

That was a significant statement of Dr. Robert H. Osgood of Harvard Medical school a day or two ago. He said that eighty per cent. of all cripples are wage-earners. He believes the practice of "hiding cripples" is all wrong. He praised the Ohio system. In Ohio it is the custom of any public health organization to report crippled cases to juvenile judges.

The juvenile court judge reports to the bureau of public welfare, which sends the child to one of the orthopedic centers in the state. It is to the everlasting glory of Rotary clubs all over the country that they are doing a tremendous work in making happy and useful citizens out of handicapped boys and girls.

An educator from the University of Wisconsin has been making an investigation of the school system of one of the states. His most important finding is this: Girls are not inferior to boys in mental ability. No doubt about it. Look back to your own school days. The girls usually got the best marks. The "mental inferiority of girls" can probably be set down as an educational myth.

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS

There's all kinds of schemes and plans to keep married couples from getting divorces. Most of 'em is good, I guess. But hundreds of people make their living writing these schemes and plans for the papers and magazines. It's something most anybody can be an expert on, because it's so hard to check up. Nobody tries the schemes.

But a girl that was proposed to in real earnest lately had one of the best schemes I ever heard of. Her boy friend was kinda crazy about her. He had got her hooked her to marry him and never get a divorce at all.

"I think we can arrange that all right," she said.

"Yes, that's true, we won't never think about divorce."

"I'm not so sure about that, Georgie. But I got a scheme. You start paying me alimony at the regular rate just the very first week we're married, and then I won't ever have any reason to get a divorce."—Copyright, 1927.

Prospect Street M. E. Church Founded in Marion in 1844 by German SettlementPresent Brick Structure Built in 1913; Debt Retired in 10 Years

The Prospect Street Methodist Episcopal Church dates its history back to 1844 when the Methodist work among the German speaking people was first organized. It then belonged to a large circuit comprising 22 preaching places.
It took the minister several weeks to make his round and he traveled over 400 miles on horseback, each trip, to cover his itinerary.

Dr. Jacob Kiedler, M. D., licensed to preach at a conference held at Delaware in 1841, was appointed the first minister of this large circuit.

In Marion, first meetings were held in the courthouse. From there a small group of German people moved to the Methodist Episcopal church which was located on the corner of State and E.
Center-sts.

Two Services
The German services were held in the Sunday school room of the church while the English services were in progress in the main auditorium. The church was a two-story building. Sunday school sessions were held in the afternoon. Services were conducted thus for a number of years until the congregation had grown to a sufficient size that it decided to erect a worship-house of its own, although it was a large undertaking for the comparatively small number of members.

Under the pastorate of the Rev. F.
Pfeiffer, in 1865, a plot was procured on the corner of Prospect and Church-
st. and the building project started.
The pastor, being a mason by trade, did a good share of the work himself, and having a large circuit to attend work on the building progressed very slowly.

At that time was a practice in the Methodist church to retain the same pastor but one year, so that Reverend Pfeiffer did not get to finish the building.

Dedicated in 1869
Rev. Christian Naeffrich was appointed his successor. He procured the services of his brother-in-law, Mr.
Moesmer of Bucyrus, who came and completed the work on the church.
Dedication services were conducted in 1869.

In the meantime the large circuit had been subdivided and Marion was a part of a four point circuit. The congregation continued to grow and in 1891 it was decided to make Marion a station.

Rev. Benjamin Best was the first pastor of Marion Station.
In 1915, under the pastorate of the Rev. John C. Gensler, D. D., it was planned to wreck the old church building and erect a new and larger one.
Accordingly, a new church costing more than $35,000 was built. This amount was raised and the church was clear of the indebtedness in less than 10 years.

Prospect Street Church now has a membership of 235 and is taking its part in the building of the Kingdom of God and the betterment of the community.

The Easter Message

REV. A. G. ADIRANCE

Pastor, Elio Memorial Church.

TOMORROW will be Easter. Has it a message for the world? It has.
Some know it. Others will learn it. But an infinitely greater number will miss it. There is living power in the Easter message. To know it, feel it, have it, one must enter into the fellowship of Christ's life, suffering, death and resurrection.

To many Easter will mean little or nothing. To others it will be a day of recreation or amusement. But to those who know Christ it will be a day of unparalleled triumph and of unspeakable joy. These latter have a message to tell.

When Jesus left the temple on Tuesday, His teaching mission to the Jews was at an end. Wednesday He rested. Thursday He taught His inner group of disciples. Friday He died on the cross for the sins of the world.
Saturday He lay in the tomb. Early Sunday morning His tomb was found empty, with an Angel guard instead of a Roman one. Before the day closed
He had appeared to certain women and to all the Apostles except Thomas.

No one in all the world expected Jesus to rise from the dead. When Joseph and Nicodemus laid Him in the tomb they prepared the corpse with a mixture of myrrh and aloes as was the custom for bodies about to be buried soon to decay. The mission of the women early to the tomb was to complete the embalming. So certain were His disciples that He would not rise, that not one of them would accept credible evidence of His Resurrection until they had seen Him. Then they could not doubt. As for His enemies they knew that He had said that He would rise from the dead, but they regarded it more as the boasting of a fanatic than as truth.

His Resurrection took the sting out of death, left the grave empty, defeated His enemies, gave proof of His Word, and Messianic claims. Brought hope and assurance of eternal life to all His people of all time. In His Word He said, "God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise us up by His own power." I Cor. 6:14.

"If any man keep my sayings he shall never see death." John 8:51.
"Because I live, ye shall live also." John 11:10. What a message to tell!
What then is our Easter duty? "Go quickly and tell." Tell of His immaculate conception, virgin birth, righteous life, vicarious suffering, death, burial and Resurrection. Of our hope and assurance of eternal life in through, and by Him. You who are His bath He commissioned to "Go quickly and tell." He has no other way. He is counting on you. Go tell it.
Tell it again and again.

LESSON

Text—He Is Risen, Even as He Said—Matt. 28:6

1 Now late on the Sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.
2 And behold, there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came rolling away the stone, and sat upon it.
3 His appearance was as lightning, and his raiment white as snow.
4 And for fear of him, the watchers did quake, and became as dead men.
5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not; for I know that ye seek Jesus, who hath been crucified.

6 He is not here; for He is risen, even as He said. Come, see the place where He lay.

7 And go quickly, and tell His disciples, He is risen from the dead; and lo, He goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see Him; for I have told you.

8 And they departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy; and ran to bring His disciples word.

9 And behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and took hold of His feet, and worshipped Him.

10 Then said Jesus unto them, Fear not; go tell My brethren that they depart into Galilee, and there shall they see Me.

EXPECT SENATE VOTE ON HILL BILL NEXT WEEK

Author of Measure Against Sunday Dancing Hopeful of Passage

The Hill anti-Sunday dance bill is expected to come up for a vote in the state senate when it reconvenes for its closing session next week even though the committee which has the proposal in charge persists in its failure to file a report.

This information came today from H. E. Hill, Marion County representative, who is author of the bill and who declares that he has by no means given up hope for its passage.

Hill arrived here yesterday following recess of the legislature and will return to Ca-lumbus Tuesday for the final session.

"I have been assured by friends of the bill in the senate that it will be called up for a vote and if they succeed in this effort I believe that it will have an excellent chance of passage," the Marion County legislator stated.

Charges Responsibility Hill charges Senator Bender of Cleveland, chairman of the county affairs committee, with full responsibility for failure of the committee to meet last Wednesday night to take action on the dance bill.

"All members of the committee were where they could have been easily reached by Bender and there would have been no difficulty in getting them together," Hill asserts. "The fact of the matter is that Bender did not want a meeting."

Hill says that he and Bender are associated as fellow members of a joint senate and house committee and that no trouble is ever experienced in holding meetings of that committee, even on short notice.

The senate county affairs committee, headed by Bender, is openly opposed to the dance bill and will do everything possible to bring about its defeat, Hill claims. He does not anticipate that the committee will make any further effort to meet and get on the proposal.

Wait an Hour
When the time came for the county affairs committee to meet last Wednesday night for final consideration of the dance proposal, Bender and four other members were present. Bender waited an hour for the other five to show up and finally left, declaring that he was "disgusted."

"I have done everything possible to get the committee together and if the members are not interested enough to meet, the responsibility rests entirely with them," he declared.

Hill, however, asserts that failure of the committee to meet was merely a subterfuge and that responsibility for the whole proceeding must be placed upon Bender.

is considered good for a fox. The water is not aerated on the Kanto. The foxes are known to love such delicate breakfast cereals and horse-drawn refrigerators keep the meat in the best condition and the carcasses of several horses are stored in the refrigerator. The meat is served to the foxes in the morning or evening according to the season.

Position on the social scale of the fox depends entirely on winter. The fox is inferior to the hare, but the fox is inferior to the hare. Differing from all other livestock, registered stock breeding proprietors for farmers must submit their names to a rigid inspection before being privileged to secure registration. In failing to pass the inspection are liable for pelting and those successful are tattooed in the left ear. The names always remain with the fox and identify him as an aristocrat.

USE OF STUCCO GENERAL YEARS AGO, DISCOVERY

Ancient Records Show Finish Used on Many Buildings Found Among Ruins

Stucco in all its endless varieties of finish and color has been used for centuries upon centuries in almost every part of the world. In America builders are just beginning to appreciate its possibilities. They are experiencing a renaissance in the use of color and texture for the stucco in homes.

Delving into ancient records and examining the ruins of old civilizations, historians find traces of a considerable amount of stucco work, some of it in an excellent state of preservation.

The old Hindu temples in India were constructed in part of stucco. This material was used in the tombs of the kings of Egypt. In ancient Rome plaster and stucco were much used to protect the heavy wooden structures from fire as well as to protect the home. Vitruvius' works on architecture contain excellent specifications for plastering and Pompeii and Herculaneum are veritable museums of colored stucco work.

With the invasions by the Goths and the Vandals, plastering became a lost art in Italy. About 200 A. D., however, plastering and stucco came into evidence in northern Italy.

On Mount Vernon, George Washington's beautiful estate on the Potomac, there is a stucco building approximately 125 years old and still in an excellent state of preservation.

VERNON HEIGHTS—BLVD IMPROVEMENT PLANNED

Section Adjoining Harding Memorial Plot To Be Paved This Summer

In connection with work on the $500,000 memorial to President and Mrs. Warren G. Harding just south of the city on the Marion-Delaware pk the improvement of the southern part of Vernon Heights blvd, for a distance of 800 feet east of Delaware av is being planned.

A double driveway with two 20 foot strips of asphalt separated by a 21 foot pathway, in the same fashion as the improved east section of the boulevard, is to be constructed. The association is planning to improve and beautify the boulevard in a like manner several hundred feet to the west of Delaware av through McKinley Park.

BUILDERS SAY GARAGE VITAL NEED OF HOME

Advent of Automobile Brings Demand for Place To House Machines

The advent of the automobile is changing the development of American cities in the belief of some real estate men, inasmuch as they tend to spread the city over more ground than in the congested days of old. Since the garage is necessary more ground is needed. The importance of being close to town is dwindling as compared to the advantages of fresh air and plenty of room.

Apartment houses without garages are driving greater numbers of young couples further out each year with the probability that city landowners will expand farther in the future than in the past.

Solves Problem

Those who are confronted with the problem of whether to invest in a new or home can sometimes solve the problem and have both if they agree to go out far enough for the garden, chickens and perhaps a cow to bring in enough toward the table to balance part of the cost of car upkeep. It is not so pertinent how close in the home shall be, as it is to decide to have a home.

Properties without garages are scarcely regarded as complete homes since the arrival of almost one car for every family. Those who rent space for cars will find such a fact an added inducement to build their own home. Money paid out in garage rent can be balanced against interest on capital required to build the garage to the advantage of the building in most cases.

COMPLETING NEW HOMES

Karl W. Schell, local home builder, is just completing a group of six new dwellings on E. Church st in the vicinity of Keunore st. One is of brick construction.

HOMES FOR RENT

Marion realtors report that there are a few good homes for rent in the city. They also report that the number of buyers for the better class of homes is increasing.

FAULTLESS DRY CLEANING PLANT GROWS RAPIDLY

Business Experiences Phenomenal Development in Three Years in Marion

The phenomenal growth of the Faultless Dry Cleaning business reads almost like a fairy tale. Three years ago in 1924 it had its beginning as a Marion concern at which time it had the smallest dry cleaning plant in Marion. Today it claims to have the largest.

This remarkable business had its beginning in the city style shop, which was located on Central. Today the dry cleaning plant is located at Lincoln and Farmington. This is not a modern, scientific plant composed of two units, capable of turning out 75 pieces every hour or approximately 50 to 60 suits an hour, which makes it one of the largest dry cleaning plants between Columbus and Toledo.

The finishing plant is located at 132 E. Church st. It is here that the Faultless office is located.

The Faultless cleaners do both a wholesale and retail business. The wholesale business draws trade from many surrounding towns such as Columbus, Delaware, Galion and Mansfield. This wholesale business is made possible by the use of fast express and interurban service, and by use of the two Faultless trucks.

Faultless cleaners plan to give daily cleaning service on all clothing brought in before 8 o'clock in the morning, except the cleaning of silks. On silks it is found necessary to use more time and care. Silks are a specialty with the Faultless cleaners and it is partly due to this particular branch of the cleaning business that Faultless has had its phenomenal growth.

A new bar blocking outfit was recently installed, which will further add to the Faultless services.

VARNISH FAVORED FOR SAVING NEW LINOLEUM

Tests Show Treatment Adds to Wearing Qualities of Floor Covering

The housewife who toils with busy step over the surface of her kitchen floor newly covered with linoleum, notices within a month or two that it is beginning to show signs of wear. Parts of the pattern are wearing away, the color may be changing or the surface is spitting, somewhat depending upon the frequency with which it is scrubbed.

Report On Tests

According to the Institute of Paint and Varnish Research of Washington, which has recently reported on a series of tests, the entire difficulty may be overcome by the use of varnish. Either a high grade interior varnish or an all purpose varnish should be used. A smooth, glossy finish is obtained by the application of two coats, allowing two days for drying between coats.

Linoleums thus treated were rubbed at 20 different times with various soap powders, and abrasive soap powders. Each sample was entirely unaffected and the conclusion is inevitable that proper varnishing of linoleum should be no means be neglected. The varnish should be applied immediately after the linoleum is laid unless it is first desired to have it stretch to its permanent form on the floor.

BUILDING PROGRAM

Report from local builders and lumber company heads indicate that Marion is leading into an era of home building. Building permit records show that the prospective home owner is going in for the superior type of dwelling.

Cobb and Collins Leave Unfavorable Impression Upon New York Fan

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, April 16.—Cobb and Collins' collection of New York headlines were out of New York today, leaving in their wake those who had seen them in action. The two players, who had been in the city for several days, left a highly unfavorable impression upon the local intelligentsia. The latter, after a reasonable interval of tolerance during which they viewed with some interest the combined efforts of Cobb and Collins, now are turning their backs on the two players with great enthusiasm.

LINKS ARE IN FINE CONDITION FOR FIRST PLAY

Season To Start, Rain or Shine, Announces Frank J. Longshore

THE Marion Country Club golf course opens Sunday. That announcement was made today by Frank J. Longshore, chairman of the greens committee, who stated that, rain or shine, the links would be open for play. The club house will not open until later, it was said.

Play will get under way on temporary greens, Mr. Longshore said. The course is in excellent condition for the opening of the season and if weather is favorable, a large number of golf enthusiasts are expected to appear on the first day.

George Wilson, the new golf pro, who arrived here a week ago to take up his duties, is on the job and will be on hand for the opening day. Mr. Wilson takes the place of Jack Corley and comes here with a splendid recommendation from courses on which he has served. He was last engaged on Florida links.

The Marion Country Club last summer received a number of new members and many more are expected to join during the coming season. The greatest of all golf seasons in Marion is predicted, as local athletes and sportsmen gain interest in the game.

WINS OVER JOHNNY WEISMULLER

BY NORMAN E. BROWN
MR. GEORGE KOJAC, until a few days ago, was just one of New York's schoolboys. Today he ranks as one of New York's leading sport celebrities. At the tender age of seventeen he had made the quickest way to gain fame in New York was to become somebody in Chicago. So the Kojae took part in the National A. A. U. meet in the Windy City. In the 150-yard backstroke event he stunned the critics and other spectators by finishing close to four lengths ahead of Weismuller. To do this the eastern lad set a new world's record for the event that eclipsed the old one—set by Weismuller—by over two seconds. Kojae's time was 1:20 1-5 seconds; Weismuller's was 1:42.

Kopp and Boyd Top Last Year's Tournament Scores

HIGHEST scores of the tournament so far this season were recorded last night in the singles, doubles, and mixed doubles of the "Merry Widow" bowling meet on the Y. M. C. A. alleys. Two marks were over the record number of points scored in the tourney last year.

Kopp and Boyd, rolling in the doubles, chalked up the high mark of the season. The total for the three games was 1289 points. Kopp's scores for each of the games was 236, 237 and 210, while Boyd bowled 180, 193 and 227. The mark that took the doubles last year was 1263, a total of 26 points under the count made last night.

Good Health for A Trifle a Day

Don't be envious of the glorious health of Grandpa. You can get that "Kruschen" feeling of cheerfulness, of freedom from fatigue, of enduring energy and vitality. In spirit and ambition the old boy is just as young as he ever was. His health is as robust, his enjoyment of life as keen, in spite of his 60 years. Old age he knows not.

Follow his example and more and more as the days pass by you'll appreciate the great blessing that the joy of living brings.

Drop two tablets of Kruschen Salts in your coffee or tea every morning—you can't taste it but the effects are almost magical.

City Planning Forced Collection of $20,000 in Taxes

COURT ACTION TO BE TAKEN ON DELINQUENTS

Prosecutor Frank Wiedemann and Marion Attorneys Arrange To Bring Suit

Court proceedings to force collection of approximately $20,000 in delinquent special assessments due the city of Marion on street improvement work done here during the last 15 years are to be started next week, according to plans completed today by Prosecuting Attorney Frank Wiedemann, City Solicitor George T. Geran and Assistant Solicitor Carter M. Patton.

The delinquencies are charged against property owners in connection with pavings, sewers and sidewalks constructed in various parts of the city. The amounts range from $1.875 down to $1,500 and bear dates running from 1912 to 1925.

To Classify Accounts

The county and city attorneys plan to classify the overdue accounts, according to their size and start six suits at a time, beginning with the largest items. Next week action will be brought for collection of the first six, followed shortly afterward by the second series and so on until all of the delinquent items have been disposed of. There are about 100 overdue accounts on the list.

It is thought that while the first proceedings are in progress many of the property owners will settle voluntarily for the full amount of their indebtedness or file applications for a compromise. This will prevent a multiplicity of suits and assist greatly in clearing up the delinquencies.

Some Uncollectable

Some of the delinquent items are believed to be uncollectable and in these cases it is likely that the accounts will be charged off the books. The attorneys are confident, however, that at least half of the $20,000 will be brought into the city treasury as a result of the court proceedings.

The suits to be started next week will be forcible proceedings, similar to action taken in connection with mortgages. The right to foreclose for collection of taxes is unquestioned, and a first lien on property sold for payment of taxes, mortgage claims ranking second.

When plans for forcing collection of delinquent special assessments were first announced several weeks ago, the total amount overdue was placed at about $10,000. This amount, however, was found to include items which are now being contested in court. Other delinquencies have been paid since announcement of the original list, so that the total at present stands at $20,000.

FOUR HURT IN SIMULTANEOUS RAIL ACCIDENTS

Escape Serious Injury When Two Cars Are Struck at Crossings

Four persons escaped serious injury at Union Station yesterday afternoon when two machines were struck at two rail crossings located within 100 feet of each other at practically the same instant.

Both automobiles were badly wrecked. A Ford truck, owned by the Marion Builders Supply Co., 710 Bennett st., and driven by William Huffman, 969 Bennett st., was struck by a southbound Hocking Valley freight train at the W. Center-st. crossing. Andrew Fugitt, 682 Darin-st., was also in the truck. The crash occurred at 4:30 o'clock.

Five seconds later a northbound Pennsylvania freight hit the new Chrysler sedan of William D. Drake, 436 E. Fairground st., Erie telegraph operator, at the W. Center-st. crossing of that railroad. The car was occupied by Mr. Drake and his wife, Mrs. Ida C. Drake, with the latter driving.

Watchmen On Duty

Crossing watchmen protect both crossings and witnesses state that both watchmen were on duty with their stop signs when the accidents occurred.

A northbound passenger train, standing on the main track of the Hocking Valley at the Union Station, obstructed the view of Huffman, who was going west on Center-st.

Huffman drove onto the track directly in the path of the oncoming locomotive. The force of the collision threw the truck clear of the tracks to the opposite side of the street and turned it completely around.

Taken to Hospital

Huffman escaped uninjured with a few minor cuts. Fugitt sustained several deep gashes about the head and was taken to City Hospital in the C. E. Curtis & Co. ambulance. He was removed from the hospital to his home this morning.

The crossing watchman at W. Center-st. is James Reardon. The train that struck the truck was an extra No. 211 in charge of Conductor C. V. Carlson.

Although warned by the watchman's signal, according to witnesses, Mrs. Drake, traveling east on Center-st., drove directly into the path of the Pennsylvania freight. The car was hurled 40 feet before finally being thrown clear of the tracks.

Mrs. Drake was the most seriously injured. She is suffering from two broken ribs and numerous cuts and bruises. Mr. Drake, who was riding in the rear seat, is also suffering from numerous cuts, but his condition is not considered serious.

Mrs. Drake had gone to the Union Station to meet her husband and was returning home at the time of the accident. The machine was running in second gear when struck.

KIRKPATRICK, MEEKER DIVIDE HONORS IN MEET

Each School Places First and Second in Each of Two Groups

Winning a first and second place in each of the two groups, Meeker and Kirkpatrick grade schools last night carried off honors in the two declamatory contests held among the students of the grade schools in the county.

Meeker won second place in the first to fourth grade group in the western portion of the county, and first in the fifth to eighth grade group, and Kirkpatrick duplicated this feat in the contest among schools in the eastern section of the county. The western group of schools contested at Agosta, while the eastern group met at Pleasant School.

Eight in Finals

Eight students, who won first and second places in the two groups, last night will compete for honors in the final contest to be held in the auditorium of Central Junior High School next Friday night.

Gold and silver medals will be given the winners in the final contest in each group, and cups will be given the winning school.

Gold, silver and bronze medals were awarded the three winning students in the preliminary contest last night, in each group.

Winning students in the western district contest in the first to fourth grade group are Demeril Hafler, Latine, first place; "Babbitts and other Eggs"; Marjorie Faust, Meeker, second place; "The Life of George Washington"; and Allen Morral, Morral, "Mammy's Way," were tied for third place.

The method of disposing of the ties in these groups had not been decided upon today by school officials.

In the eastern district contest the winners in the first to fourth grade group are:

Warren Timson, Caledonia, first place, "Dad Helps Wash Dishes"; Betty Brooks, Kirkpatrick, second place, "The Lisper"; Josephine Selter, Pleasant, third place, "The Rugged Man."

In the fifth to eighth grade group in the eastern district the winners are:

Scott Perry, Kirkpatrick, first place, "A Plan for Cuba"; Sherman Biggerstaff, Pleasant, second place, "A Conclusion"; Lola Rorick, Caledonia, third place, "Encouragement."

The eight students who will enter the final contest next Friday night are: Demeril Hafler, Latine, Marjorie Faust, Meeker; Bernard Brooks, Meeker; Lorence Ransom, Prospect; Warren Timson, Caledonia; Betty Brooks, Kirkpatrick; Scott Perry, Kirkpatrick; and Sherman Biggerstaff, Pleasant.

The whole secret of life is to be interested in one thing profoundly and in a thousand other things as well.

Haphazard thought and action do not make for happiness.
